

APIAM STUDENT NEWS

Edition 1: October 2018

WELCOME TO THE FIRST EDITION!

Apiam Animal Health is comprised of Australia's leading production and mixed animal veterinary practices with over 160 industry leading veterinarians with expertise across the pig, dairy, feedlot, sheep, equine and companion animal sectors.

FROM YOUR EDITOR ... WHY A STUDENT NEWSLETTER?

Because Apiam acknowledges that you are our future employees and we'd like to get to know you and for you to get to know Apiam. We appreciate that the transition from University to your first veterinary position can sometimes be stressful so we'd like to help make it easier.

This newsletter will provide you with valuable information to help get you started in your veterinary career. From "Case Studies", "Tips and Tricks" and Mental Health info to Upcoming Events where you can meet us and of course Job Vacancies and tips for applying.

I hope to meet many of you at the various Vet student association events and Uni careers expos throughout 2019. Importantly, I'd like to hear what you would like to read about ... so please email your suggestions to me at vetstudents@apiam.com.au

Did you know?

The name Apiam Animal Health and our logo is inspired by the honey bee from the genus Apis. Bees are symbolic of a team working towards a common goal. They are industrious and hard-working, creating wonderfully efficient, meticulous, hexagonal hives. Hexagons form a repetitive pattern, common in nature due to scalability, while maintaining their robustness and strength. It is Apiam's goal that all clinics, businesses and employees will work together towards a common goal, developing its team and building a successful, strong and inspiring company.

Competition Time!

"Apiam Student News"
– pretty boring title right?

So enter the competition ... come up with a catchy name and a logo to match. Email both with your name, and contact details and which Uni you are from to vetstudents@apiam.com.au
Entries close 15 November 2018.
